Weare Middle School Voted "Best of 603" in Radio Contest

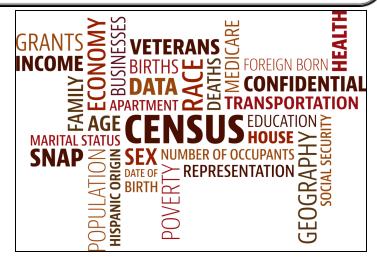

Weare Middle School was recently voted a Gold Medal Winner for middle schools in the "Best of the 603" program.

This inaugural event was presented by the Manchester Radio Group. Over 50,000 votes were cast.

"We truly see this honor as a way to recognize every member of our community--teachers, students, parents and community members," said WMS Principal Shawne Hilliard.

The "Best of 603" program is intended "to recognize the best businesses, organizations and people in our area," according to the WZID website. Nominations are made by the public in May and voting occurs during the summer. The program includes dozens of categories across industries. Cold Springs RV of Weare was also recognized this year as a Gold Medal Winner in Best RV Dealership.

2020 Census Report Shows Modest Growth for the Town of Weare

By Tom Clow

Although there appear to be a lot of new homes going up in town recently, according to the 2020 Census Report, Weare showed only modest growth during the last decade, with a population of 9,092 in 2020 compared to 8,785 in 2010, an increase of 307 or 3.5 %. Statewide, New Hampshire's population grew by 61,059, or 4.6%, to a total of 1,377,529 during that same time period.

The changes in population varied greatly in our bordering towns, varying from an increase of 27.9% in Henniker to a 1% decrease in the population of Deering. The chart (see page 2) compares the changes for Weare and its neighboring communities.

A complete breakdown of data by counties, towns and cities, and New Hampshire as a whole can be found at www.nh.gov/osi/data-center/2020-census.

Click on the lines labeled NEW under 2020 Redistricting Data for these breakdowns. Statewide data on diversity, housing, income, employment, health, families and business is also available.

The Census: Comparing Population Change
Town	2010	2020	% change
Weare	8,785	9,092	+3.5%
Henniker	4,836	6,185	+27.9%
Hopkinton	5,589	5,914	+5.8%
Dunbarton	2,758	3,005	+9%
Goffstown	17,651	18,577	+5.2%
New Boston	5,321	6,108	+14.8%
Deering	1,912	1,904	-1%

Incentives Offered to Attract Custodial Staff in Weare District

The Weare School District, as is the case across New Hampshire, struggles to find support and custodial staff, according to a district press release.

To address the shortage, the district will provide a $500 incentive for newly hired custodians.

"We are down custodians, which increases the workload of our current employees and makes it difficult to meet the daily needs of the buildings," said Jacqueline Coe, SAU 24 Superintendent.

The District will also provide an incentive for returning custodians to show appreciation for their ongoing work.

"Our custodial staff takes pride in maintaining the buildings," Coe said. "They are essential to the work that we do with students and keep our schools operating safely and effectively."

For more details about the incentives and to apply, please visit www.SAU24.org.

Historical Society Hosts Free Program

By Ronda Gregg

The Weare Historical Society has received a grant to host speaker Steve Taylor for a presentation entitled "Poor Houses and Town Farms: The Hard Row for Paupers."

The presentation will take place on Saturday, Oct. 16 at the cafetorium of the Weare Middle School at 2 p.m. The Stone Memorial Building, which houses artifacts of the town's history, will be open to visitors before and after the presentation.

Taylor will discuss the earliest settlements in New Hampshire and the struggle with issues surrounding the treatment of its poor. The early Northeastern colonies followed the lead of England's 1601 Poor Law, which imposed compulsory taxes for maintenance of the poor but made no distinction between the "vagrant, vicious poor" and the helpless, and honest poor. This confusion persisted for generations and led directly to establishment in most of the state's towns of alms houses and poor farms and, later, county institutions, which would collectively come to form a dark chapter in New Hampshire history. Taylor will examine how paupers were treated in these facilities and how reformers eventually succeeded in closing them down.

was formed and it suggested a contractor take care of the 11 poor people in town. This person's job was to feed, clothe, house, provide healthcare and get the children to school. The contractor would, in exchange, get free labor for his farm. This lasted for 12 years.

In 1839, a farm was purchased on Poor Farm Road for $3,000. The poor were to raise their own food and provide labor to the farm in return for clothing, medical assistance and burial expenses. The farm burned to the ground in 1917. There are currently no known pictures of the Weare Poor Farm.

The program is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be provided.

"Hidden in this picture"...Take a good look at the logo above and you will find it is a lasting tribute to Barbara Jean Crehan's love of two very special dogs pictured there in silhouette.

Crehan is the owner of RSA, which offers on-site or in-home training, boot camp, boarding and doggy day care. She grew up as an only child and learned early on what an invaluable friend a dog can be for a lonely child. This white German Shepard named Louie came into her life when she was only three years old and showered her with unconditional love and support.

As a teenager, she had already begun training for her future career in a special vocational high school that offered canine science. It was at this formative age she was introduced to Smiley, an Australian Shepard, who was slated to be put down for bad behavior. Smiley's owners gave the dog to Crehan as the last hope for rehabilitation. Many of Smiley's problems were from lack of understanding and she became an exemplary show dog who took many ribbons and obeyed all commands within seconds.

Eventually, Crehan's friends began calling her a "Dog Whisperette," and that has become her favorite title. In fact, she even has five dogs who are considered part of her "staff." Abel, the German Shepherd mix, plays with everyone and explains the rules. Huey is only five pounds and is something of a curiosity to the other dogs. He also likes to showcase the agility equipment. Kai, a dachshund mix, is a support dog who enjoys giving hugs. Oscar, a Labradoodle, has a special interest in canine sports. Odin is an Alaskan Malamute mix who finds plenty of time for loving every other dog he sees. Of course, it would be a bit hard for this part of the staff to manage without a human component since someone has to be around to speak English.

The owner of RSA - Crehan - has impressive credentials, but she considers the most important one to be her love of all dogs. Her formal training includes a major in Canine Science, which began in high school and continued at Becker College and at Worcester State University. where she studied business and communications. She became a member of the International Association of Canine Professionals because she agrees with its goal of establishing standards and education among like-minded trainers. Competing in obedience and agility are two of her favorite hobbies. Crehan supports continuing education classes for professionals - including dog trainers. She pursues them and teaches them whenever she can.

In addition to her duties at RSA, Crehan also finds time to be on the board of directors for Sakaris Place, which is a wolf dog sanctuary in New Boston. (So, yes, if you live in South Weare, you may be hearing the wolves from that location, as the sound from wolf howls travels up to 10 miles.)

The website for "Really Special Animals" contains many positive reviews regarding situations where the intervention of RSA has been life changing and transformed their canine friends into "whole new animals." Perhaps part of the reason for Crehan's See RSA, page 4

success stems from her varied work history, which has allowed her to see the world as her four-legged friends do and provided practical hands-on experience regarding what works and what does not. In the past, Crehan has worked in boarding facilities, daycares, grooming salons, training programs, breeding programs, show kennels, pet specialty retail, a veterinarian's office, rescue organizations and activist and awareness groups.

Also working at RSA is Bella Becirevic, Assistant Dog Trainer who is learning to specialize in aggression rehabilitation. Raina Gentile – Dog Handler - joined the pack in May of this year and is learning RSA's training techniques.

What Is the Value of a Rotary Club?

By Robbie Grady

The year was 1911. It was the second convention of the newly formed Rotary International. The speaker was Rotarian Frederick Sheldon and his words resonated both then and now -- so much so that the organization adopted a portion of his speech for one of their mottos: "He profits most who serves his fellow best."

The Rotary Club of Goffstown is proud to be continuing in that tradition. Did you know the Rotary Club of Goffstown also serves Weare? That service takes the form of donations to the food pantry, the annual giving tree, a scholarship every year to a John Stark senior and grants for local non-profits. (In fact, in the past, Weare in the World has been a recipient of one of our grants.)

If you'd like to learn more about us, you can always help out at one of our projects and talk to our members in person while helping us volunteer. We have two projects coming up that could use an extra hand or two. On Saturday, Oct. 2, we will be cleaning up a two-mile section of Route 13 between Goffstown and Dunbarton. Once that is complete, we'll move to Rotary Park in Goffstown Village for our fall clean-up.

On Oct. 16-17, we'll be at Rotary Park selling burgers and hot dogs to the guests of the giant pumpkin weekend. This is one of our major fundraisers for the year, and funds raised go across all of the communities we serve. We need folks who can work a two-hour shift helping at the food booth. It's a fast couple of days, and we always manage to have lots of fun while we are working. Please send us an for details email if you can help: goffstownrotary@gmail.com. There is a sign-up link here: https://www.signupgenius.com/go/10c0c49a9a728a1f94giant1

Not ready to join a project? Come visit one of our meetings. We meet every week, and the schedule varies from morning meetings most weeks to an evening meeting once a month. You are welcome to visit as many meetings as you wish. You can learn about us from our Facebook page or on our website,

All About Weare in the World

Is Weare in the World famous? Who started this local paper? What is the paper's prime directive? Is it delivered door to door? Can it be found in the local stores? Where does it get all its money? How come there are no ads?

If you are curious about all these topics and would like answers to these questions, please join Community Relations Reporter Sharon Czarnecki at the Goffstown Rotary Club on Tuesday, Sept. 28 at 7:30 a.m. The location is 41A Main St., Goffstown (the offices of Deb Chabot – State Farm Insurance). This is a chance for Weare folks to learn more about both the paper and the Rotary.

As you all know, many of the arts have suffered greatly as a result of COVID-19. I just wanted to put in a recommendation for this local theater group right in our neighboring town. I have not seen this particular play but have been to many other performances here and found them all to be worthwhile. Tickets are an amazingly affordable $15 each, so go support the arts!

Obituary

Michael L. Couhie

On midday Sunday, Sept. 19, 2021, heaven gained its archangel.

Michael Leo Couhie was born June 6th, 1949 at the Berlin Clinic in Berlin, NH. Born to Joan Marie Hinchey Couhie and Bernard James Couhie, Michael was their only son. Michael and his parents moved to Milford, CT where his father worked as a carpenter, his mother worked as an executive secretary for Bic pen and Michael began his Taekwondo journey at age 8. Michael went on to graduate from Jonathan Law HS in 1967.

In 1971, Michael met and married (in 1972) the love of his life, (Jeanne) Suzanne Bradley, after meeting at the Mittersill Inn where Michael was a bellhop and Suzanne was a waitress. Michael was asked to bring Suzanne's bags to the dorm and that is where the two begin their lives together. Soon after, they moved across the country and began their dream in California with their two daughters, Erin and Colleen.

Fate soon intervened when Michael's father passed in 1980 and he was called back to NH where his parents had built a small summer cabin in Weare, NH. – This small cabin eventually became the Couhie household in 1981. They raised their two daughters and two sons, Jeremiah and Patrick filling the home with many memories. In the end he enjoyed his final days laughing and loving his two beloved granddaughters, Caitlyn and Rose and as always spending time with his one true love Suzanne.

After 23 years as a telephone lineman, in 1990, with his wife Suzanne, Michael opened and operated what became the oldest Tae Kwon Do school in the state of NH, Riverside/RTH. He travelled to Korea multiple times and achieved the rank of 9th degree black belt before closing the school in January 2020. Together Michael and Suzanne had created yet another family through a mutual love of martial arts and movement.

Michael loved interacting with the local communities and earned a spot in many of these people's hearts. From community martial arts programs, to substitute teaching, to church volunteer services and cleaning the roads of the state he loved. Michael's love and effort made its mark, but none so deep as the mark he left on his family. He will be deeply missed by all who knew him. Services will be held Friday, Sept. 24, 2021 at 10 a.m. at St. Theresa's Church, 158 Old West Hopkinton Road in Henniker, NH.

Minestrone Soup

By Sharon Czarnecki

This recipe was a favorite of my husband, Andy, and super popular with our friends. (He was always asked to bring it to potluck affairs.) Andy also liked to put a bunch up in the freezer for winter nights when he and I didn't want to cook, or to take to a friend in need of help. The basic recipe serves 6 to 8.

Ingredients	x1	x2
Cups of water	4	8
Frozen meatballs	20	40
Cans great northern beans	1	2
Tbs. Beef Bouillon	1.5	3
Tbs. minced dried onion	1	2
Tsp. crushed dried basil	1	2
Cups spaghetti broken into 2-inch pieces (or other pasta)	3.5	7
Mixed frozen veggies	16 oz.	32 oz.
Cut tomatoes	16 oz.	32 oz.

-Let ½ cup dry beans soak overnight and drain OR boil ½ cup dry beans in four cups of water, add beans, return to boil for two minutes. Remove from heat, cover, and let stand for one hour, drain.

-Use a four-quart Dutch oven. Combine all ingredients except tomatoes and spaghetti. Heat to boiling. -Add spaghetti (or other pasta) and stir.

NOTE: if freezing for serving later, omit pasta and do this step 20 minutes before serving -Reduce heat to simmer for 20 minutes -Add tomatoes and serve -Garnish with parmesan cheese if desired STORING: Freezes well. TIPS: Marshmallow fluff containers hold 4 cups. If the See MINESTRONE, page 7

Living with Bears in Weare

By Michael Collins

One of the main aspects of living in a rural area like Weare is enjoying the wildlife. We have had a number of encounters with bears, and they are my favorite animal to have visit.

One such visit about eight years ago occurred as I left the house for our car in the barn/garage. I was looking down as I came out of the house, watching where I put my feet. I looked up as I approached the garage. On the other side of the garage, about 40 feet away, was a mama bear and three cubs. We were all suddenly frozen in our tracks. I was 20 feet from the side door of my house. I thought I could make it there before the bear could reach me. I was thinking about how fast a bear can move and how a mama bear will kill or maim to protect her cubs. Fortunately, the cubs were near trees next to the stone wall about 10 feet beyond mama. The cubs broke toward the trees and each one quickly climbed a tree. Mama looked to her children, looked back at me, and then began ambling toward the stone wall. She deftly jumped the wall and headed into the forest. The cubs took the hint and slid and climbed down the trees and followed. I was breathing hard.

Another visit occurred while my grandsons, ages 10 and 11, were with us. This bear was a full-grown male and quite beautiful. He was looking around our front yard where we had recently been bird feeding. It was his bad luck that the feeders were put away. He had been here before. As a joke, and to amuse the boys, I opened the slider and began making 'chuffing' noises and raising my arms. The bear looked up, stood up, and began making similar sounds. I stopped my actions, and the bear dropped to all fours and moved away from the house. Not the smartest thing I ever did!

Last year brought five different bears to our house, again looking for bird feeders. Three had white medallions on their chests (each different), two were solid colored but different sizes. The visits occurred over a six-hour period during one day.

This year, one bear visited twice, once in the bird feeding area. He was out of luck yet again. He later came back and had breakfast at the blueberry bushes. This year, neighbors picked some of the blueberries, but there was ample supply for a hungry bear. He sampled berries from every bush. Done with breakfast, he strolled to the woods and was quickly gone from sight.
