GraniteCon 30 Is Coming to Town

By Alyssa Small

On Sunday, Oct. 15 from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Weare Middle School is hosting GraniteCon 30, the thirtieth annual static model display and contest held by the Granite State

Modelers Club. There will be over 40 categories of models (such as aircraft. military vehicles, ships, trucks, motorcycles, figures, dioramas, sci-fi/fantasy and juniors), with a total of approximately 350 models on display.

How did the show come to Weare? It was scheduled to take place at the conference center at the La Quinta at the Amoskeag Circle in Manchester, but plans changed due to building remodeling. Weare resident John Rauscher, an avid long-time modeler and active member of the club, suggested the middle school as an alternate location.

Rauscher himself started plastic modeling at the age of six, when he was gifted a kit for his birthday by the girl across the street. He also had some experience doing balsa wood models with his father. It was in the 1980s when Rauscher's interest in the hobby really took off. He says that's when he got into it "hardcore." He estimates that he has completed about 100 models and has many, many kits on the shelf, waiting to be built. Speaking of shelves, Rauscher's interest in modeling is what got him started as a bookstore proprietor. He started offering history and reference books for accuracy in model building. Rausher's book barn, Boomers Books at 273 North Stark Highway, confirms his deep interest in history and books.

Rauscher is not the first Weare resident to be a prominent modeling enthusiast. In fact, in the 1970s, the See MODELS, page 2

CIP Committee Hears Requests For 2024 Capital Expenditures

By Tom Clow

The Capital Improvement Program (CIP) Committee kicked off the lengthy process of preparing its portion of the 2024 Town of Weare budget and warrant at a meeting on Sept. 20, hearing presentations by all of the town's major departments. The CIP committee, which is a subcommittee of the Weare Planning Board, is charged with hearing all capital improvement requests costing $15,000 or more. These include the purchase of vehicles and major pieces of equipment, or improvements to the town's infrastructure. Before moving into presentations, the committee re-elected Jack Dearborn as chairman and Stu Richmond as vice-chair. Richmond represents the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) on the committee.

Fire/Rescue Department

Assistant Fire/Rescue Chief Mark Roarick (Acting Chief as of Oct. 1) presented the requests for his department, the major one being a new fire engine in 2024. The estimated cost included in the request is $1 million; however, it's likely most of this would be covered by money from a special revenue fund financed through ambulance billing fees. Roarick said there is presently $633,672 available in that fund, and the fund earns approximately $200,000 per year. It will take about 18 months for the fire engine to be delivered after it is ordered, Roarick said. The new engine would replace a 1987 International four-wheel drive vehicle, he said. Roarick also shared the department's anticipated CIP requests through 2031.

Police Department

Police Chief Christopher Moore had two CIP requests for the 2024 warrant. He used a powerpoint presentation to clarify the need for a new vehicle and to replace the police station's video

president of the International Plastic Modelers Society

(IPMS) lived in Weare. The IPMS currently has 5,000-7,500 members in 220 chapters in North America, which includes our local chapter, the Granite State Modelers (GSM). The GSM has about 30 members and meets on the third Monday of every month at the Nashua Public Library. They also have three weekly Zoom build sessions, where members can work on their own projects, collaborate, and socialize. The Zoom sessions started during the COVID pandemic, but have continued due to popularity.

Plastic modeling provides many benefits for young and old alike. Why start or introduce it to your kid? According to Rauscher, modeling is good for concentration, following instructions, being detail-oriented, using tools, learning about history and sparking other interests. It is a creative pastime that can be taken up by individuals with a span of abilities. Some make their models as they come right out of the box, and others take great pains to customize their builds by use of paints, bases, combinations of kits, and adding handmade parts, explained Rauscher.

Modelers are passionate about their craft and want to share it with others, which is one reason for hosting events such as the convention on Oct. 15. It will be educational for all.

If you have any questions about the event, please reach out to John Rauscher at jvr@gsinet.net or 603-529-5644. You can also find more info at www.granitestatemodlersclub.org.

GraniteCon 30

Weare Middle School Oct. 15, 9 a.m - 4 p.m. Admission is $5 per adult and free for any child under 12 with an adult. Entry in the model contest is $5 for the first four models and $1 for each additional entry. Vendors will sell kits, paints, tools, books and more. Food and drinks will be offered by the Weare PTO.

surveillance system. The vehicle request is for a fully equipped Chevrolet Tahoe patrol vehicle at an estimated cost of $84,190 adjusted for inflation. The Tahoe would replace a 2017 Dodge Charger with a current mileage of 115,098 (254,826 engine miles, which includes idling time.) Moore said that the current surveillance system is outdated and costly to maintain. The last attempted repair was in June 2023, and the vendor indicated that the system is inoperable and needs replacement, he said. The estimated cost to replace is $35,000. Moore emphasized the importance of the system to the safety of those in the building.

Parks and Recreation

The Parks and Recreation Commission (PARC) is requesting funds for an engineering site assessment and plan for property on East Road focused on creating a recreational park that would include one to seven ball fields and the possible relocation of the tennis/pickleball court to that site. Denise Purington presented on behalf of PARC.

On Sept. 9, the PARC and Board of Selectmen went on a site walk of the East Road property, as well as Ineson Field on Quaker Street, looking at each for the possible location of additional athletic fields. Purington said that when the East Road property was purchased for conservation, 20 acres was set aside for the town to mine gravel with the plan to use that area for ball fields after the gravel was removed. She said the cost to reclaim the gravel pit area for ballfields would be prohibitive, so the commission was looking at the open fields, which were also part of the property, as a possible alternative for creating the recreational park.

Department of Public Works

Interim DPW Director Jason Fiske presented the requests for Highway and Transfer Station. For Highway, the department is asking to replace an outdated six-wheel plow truck with a 10-wheel truck. The 10-wheel truck increases efficiency in plowing and sand and gravel hauling, Fiske said in his request. The total cost for the truck would be $280,000; however, a possible grant of $240,000 could reduce the cost to taxpayers to $56,000. The annual request for road reconstruction is $600,000; with $283,965 of that amount coming from NHDOT Block Grant Funding. The department is also seeking to replace a highway mower at a cost of $175,000. The present 1995 New Holland Mower is inoperable.

For the Transfer Station DPW is requesting a battery-powered trailer caddy to move empty and loaded trash trailers at the station. The cost would be $52,728. The caddy would eliminate the need for a transfer station employee to have a CDL license.

Follow-up

The CIP Committee is scheduled to meet again on Sept. 27 to allow for any additional information to be presented and to work on a report that will be presented to the Weare Planning Board, followed by the Weare Board of Selectmen, and then the Weare Finance Committee. Other members of the CIP Committee not mentioned above include Gary Shelto, Steve Roberts, Planning Board member Bruce Fillmore, and Selectboard member Sherry Burdick.

At its annual meeting on Sept. 11, the New Hampshire Interscholastic Athletic Association (NHIAA) presented John Stark Regional High School with the NHIAA Sportsmanship Award. This award is presented annually to schools who demonstrate a high degree of sportsmanship throughout the year. The rating of sportsmanship is voted on by competing schools after each sports season, and is based on the acts of players, coaches, spectators, administrators, and school personnel.

"This is an incredible honor that our entire John Stark school community should be very proud of," said John Stark Athletic Director Rodney Brown. "This is the first such honor in school history."

John Stark Principal Gary Dempsey, who was also at the award presentation, echoed Brown's excitement.

"Congratulations to the entire John Stark community for doing your part in making the athletic experience one we all can be proud of. Go, Generals!" exclaimed Dempsey.

On September 21, JSRHS opened their cross country course to Henniker and Weare cross country teams for WMS's first-ever "home" meet. Standout performances for the WMS girls were Arabella Yergeau, who finished first for the WMS girls and third overall with a time of 14:51 and Luke Gajowski, who finished first overall with a time of 13:24. The Wildcat boys defeated Henniker, and the girls were edged out by just one point. Many thanks go to the John Stark coaches, athletic director, administration and cross country team for making this all possible. (Haley Ayala photo).

JSRHS Varsity Girls Soccer Team Look to Build towards Playoffs

By Hunter Keim

When speaking with John Stark Generals Girls Varsity Soccer Coach Edmond Marceau and fellow leaders of the team, one thing was apparent: They are hungry to win.

With five straight wins to open up the season, execution has been the name of the game early on. However, after a tougher week, the Generals dropped two games in a row, both to undefeated teams: Hollis-Brookline and Merrimack Valley. The Generals have more chances this week; they were to play Keene on Tuesday and face Bow on Friday.

Composed of 11 seniors, the John Stark Generals Girls Soccer Team has veteran experience and the benefits of playing together for a long time, with obvious camaraderie and friendships.

When junior goalie Lexi Boudreau was asked her thoughts on the season so far, her main focus seemed to be team-oriented.

"We need to be focused on becoming one team and not individually minded," Boudreau said.

Veteran defensive-back Hayleigh Dennis said she is committed to the idea of helping out by any means.

"My goal moving deeper into the season is to help everyone push harder in practices because that's where it's won or lost," she said.

Goal-setting is a common theme among members of the team, which can be traced back to values instilled by the coaching staff.

First-year Coach Edmond Marceau appears to seek out and find a special connection with all of his players. A strong objective- and purpose-based team is what he preaches, Marceau said, and the accountability that comes with setting those pillars. He asks for a mutual relationship of both trust and transparency with his players in hopes of making players feel more confident in their abilities and to really reach that next level of play.

"We have a common shared goal and have been working every single day in training to achieve that goal," he said, "so when we're all on the same page and executing our goals we are finding success."

Marceau and Assistant Coach Theresa Carbonneau are adding in stepping stones that the Generals will need moving closer and into the chilly playoff season of November with hopes of making a run at the Division 2 State Championship.

Public Invited to Hear Local Author Marjorie Burke Speak on Alzheimer's

By Chris Hague

The Deering Women's Guild welcomes local author and speaker (also Weare in the World volunteer staff member) Marjorie Burke on Wednesday, Oct. 4 at 1 p.m. to share with the public a remarkable story of a couple's journey through Alzheimer's.

Marjorie has written five books, including a trilogy, describing the love and loss she and her husband shared as his Alzheimer's disease progressed. Her talk will focus on that journey as it affected her during and after her husband's life.

Weare readers are acquainted with Marjorie's poetry, and many know her through her active civic and church life. She has facilitated support groups for caregivers and is a member of the Weare Area Writers' Guild. Through her first book, "Melting Ice and Shifting Sand," we meet her husband Don, as the book alternates voices between the two partners during the early stages of Don's memory loss.

Subsequent books look at the stresses and joys of caregiving and decisions that must be made for the welfare of both partners. These are not clinical descriptions, although the facts included are accurate.

They are relatable, compassionate stories of what to expect if a loved one experiences Alzheimer's, and how love, faith and courage sustain a family.

This talk will be held at the Deering Community Church, 763 Deering Center Road (Route 149). The public is encouraged to attend at no charge. Copies of Marjorie's books will be available.

The Deering Women's Guild is open to all women of any faith or of none. Its mission is to enhance the spiritual life and friendships of women in the community and support benevolent work.
